NOTES.

Send your name to John Bell Gibson, Stanford, one week before the convention that homes may be assigned to all. Publish this programme in your county paper.

All railroads in Kentucky will carry delegates and visitors at one fare going and ½ fare returning. When you purchase your ticket take the agent's receipt. We will get still lower rates on some roads if possible, and announce them in the timide. Signed,

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE,
ALEX. G. HOPKINS, Evangelist.

With only one House democratic, the legislature this year has made the lowest tax rate known since 1855. Democracy means low taxes both State and National.—N. Y. World.

Should Bradley's man secure the republican nomination for governor, the followers of Deeny and Boyle will eat Wood and say nothing at the August election.—Louisville Times.

The new constitution will, if adopted, prohibit a mine owner from owning an interest in a railroad which runs to his mine; and prohibit a railroad holding an interest in a mine the products of which it hauls to a market.—Covington Commonwealth.

The N. Y. World says that the billion means $15.87 tax for every man woman and child in the country. The man with a wife and five children must "pony up" $111.00 for his share of the extravagance. How do you like it, wage-earners?

Substitutes for alcoholic drinks in prohibition places are not meeting with success. Some of the most popular, though weak in alcohol, contain other properties much more deleterious, notably salicylic acid which is used to arrest fermentation. The acid is a kidney-destroyer. A scientist who has analyzed several of the temperance drinks, such as "cured cider," says it is much safer to take whisky.

DANVILLE.—Chief Justice Fuller, of the United States Supreme Court, will deliver the diplomas to the Centre College graduating class in June.—Rev. F. S. Pollitt, of Harrodsburg, will assist Rev. W. E. Arnold in conducting a revival at the Methodist church in this city, beginning Monday evening.—A. E. Hundley sold Wednesday to Nelson Rowland, of Lexington, a 3-year-old bay gelding, by Messenger Breeze, for $300. Advocate.

A Wisconsin legislator is reported to have said: "I think every man should take his boys to saloons and teach them to use beer temperately." Why not at the same time teach these boys how to set fire to a wheat stack so that the flames will burn up the straw but leave the grain?—Chicago Standard.

CRAB ORCHARD.

The Springs here will not be formally opened until July 1, so those in authority say.

The Vanderpool House, near the depot, which was yesterday granted license to retail liquors, opened up business to-day. Mr. E. Smith is the man who handles the decanters and glasses.

The Louisville Times says that the Kentucky State Guards will not encamp here this summer, but go to Mammoth Cave instead.

This conclusion will bring a cloud to the eyes of many dashing Venuses who were too utterly too too sanguine that they would enjoy the pleasure of flirting with the "boys in blue" at the Springs this year.

A physician of this place, who has had a large, varied and lucrative practice for 25 years, says that preachers are of all men whom he has waited on, most afraid of that grim persuader, death. We are unable to understand this, unless it is that preachers are so well acquainted with the penalties promised in Scripture, and so cognizant of their own shortcomings, that they fear to stand before the Jasper throne.

Mrs. Alie Newland spent Sunday in Pittsburgh. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Thurman, of Garrard, were the guests of relatives in this vicinity this week.

Mr. H. B. Farris, the accommodating clerk of the Gilcher Hotel, Danville, was up to see his aged mother Friday. Mrs. Rev. M. H. Morgan, of Pineville, was summoned by telegraph to attend the bedside of her brother and arrived Friday night.

Mr. John Anderson, "My Joe John," Garrard's handsome and popular superintendent of schools, and Mr. Charley Hayden, of Stanford, were here Sunday and—and must we tell it? caught on among the girls.

Mr. Simeon Gordey, who was deprived of the faculty of speech by paralysis a couple of years ago, and who just week suffered a second severe stroke, astonished his attendants Saturday night by turning over and talking freely for several minutes. His conversation, however, was of occurrences that happened before his first attack two years ago. He recognized his attendants and called them by name, but he seems to have lost all remembrance of what has occurred recently, and in which he himself was an actor, for until the last week he mixed and mingled in society like others with the exception that he communicated by means of a pocket slate instead of by speech. He is still in a precarious condition, however, but his relatives and friends are hopeful, in case of his recovery, that his speech will be restored. This case is a most peculiar one.

—A telegram from Bradford, Fla., to Judge Arch Carson, of this place, conveys the sad intelligence that his son, Stuart M. Carson, was shot and killed there Friday morning by a negro, whom he was attempting to arrest. About five years ago young Carson, accompanied by Thomas Lasley, also a Crab Orchard boy, left here for Florida on the same mission that took old Ponc de Leon to that sunny land—a search for health. They both went to Bradford, of which Lasley in time became mayor and in which capacity he was shot and killed a year ago by an obstreperous law-breaker, full particulars of which appeared in these columns at the time. Young Carson helped to bury his companion, little dreaming that an almost identical fate awaited him. When shot Mr. Carson was acting deputy sheriff of Suwanee county. As he was always prudent and unexcitable, his friends here can hardly understand how his slayer could be worked up to perpetrate so foul a crime. Stuart M. Carson was born and raised here and was well liked by all who knew him, his affability, generosity and straightforwardness winning him friends among all classes. His remains arrived Sunday night in charge of his brother, J. H. Carson, and J. S. Edmonston, and with proper ceremonies were deposited in the family lot here. The sympathy of the entire community is with the judge and his family in their bereavement.

The county committee was then selected as follows: Stanford, G. M. Davison, G. W. Gentry; Tumerville, W. R. Davison; Hustonville, S. G. Drye; Walnut Flat, J. C. King; Crab Orchard, F. W. Dillon; Highland, J. S. Young; Kingsville, Steve Blankenship; Hubble, Sidney Dunbar; Waynesburg, M. T. Stevens.

It was then resolved that a copy of these proceedings be sent to the INDEPENDENT, Mountain Echo and Lexington Leader for publication. On motion the meeting then adjourned.

G. M. DAVISON, Chmn.

G. W. GENTRY, Sec'y.

Old Adam Renaker, late a member of the legislature from Harrison county, who gained some notoriety from having carried a large Federal flag during Cleveland's first campaign, and was seen with it at almost every democratic barbecue during the canvass, and also carried it to the inauguration of Cleveland in 1885, was brutally beaten up by his son the other day. The old man says he did it without cause. The young man claims that his father came to his house drunk and insulted his wife.

LONDON LAUREL COUNTY.

The fishing parties mentioned in my last letter have all returned and report a pleasant time all but the cold weather.

The result of Elder Livingston's protracted meeting here this week was seven additions. They were baptized in J. T. Brown's pond Sunday.

The pupils of the dancing school will give a hop on the 20th. A printed card to that effect is out and a large crowd will probably be here from other points.

The work of grading the new fair ground track is progressing rapidly and some valuable racing and trotting purses sufficient to insure the attendance of some good horses will be offered this fall.

A hunter belonging to Dr. Ramsey, an overcoat hung on a fence on Main street by George Wren and flowers set in bed in front of A. P. Moore's residence were all stolen last week after dark, which is something unusual in our temperate and religious village.

Robert Asher, a farmer living four miles from here, had a mare to drop twin colts Monday, one being a horse colt and the other a mule colt. Both colts are lively and considered great curiosities by everybody in this section. Dozens of people have been to see them.

Judge Aleorn, of Stanford, was here last week and says Dick Warren is sure to get there. I hope his judgment in this is as good as in other things. Mr. Andy Rice, of Lincoln, is in London on business. H. C. Eversole is at Winchester attending the trial of the parties connected with the famous French-Eversole feud. Miss Amanda Mason returned Saturday from Somerset, where she has been visiting her brother. Mrs. J. T. Williams is in Somerset visiting her sister, Mrs. H. G. Litton. Mrs. Sallie Craft and son, Walton, accompanied her aunt, Mrs. Rebecca Pittman, to Paint Lick. Gilbert Garrard was here from Manchester Monday. Judge Boyd and Col. Clark were on our streets Sunday, having just returned from Jackson circuit court. J. A. Craft is in from Louisville.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—only one marriage license has been issued here in the last five weeks.

—N. R. Wedding, a young Ohio country farmer of 30 years, eloped with Mrs. V. B. Morgan, the 65-year-old wife of a well-to-do farmer.

—George Nicholson, a farmer near Milan, Ind., after three months' experience, decided marriage a failure and committed suicide.

—A Chicago paper boasts that there are on an average 75 marriages a day there. The number of divorces is not given, but they probably exceed that number.

—Wedding guests waited in vain at Eighty-Eight, in Barren county, for the coming of William Hamilton and Mr. Baley, his best man. The two young men were thrown from a buggy while going to the bride's home and both were badly hurt. Hamilton may die.

—A couple at Springfield, O., celebrated their golden wedding Friday, when they surprised their guests by exhibiting a piece of their wedding cake, made in 1841. It was wrapped in the same paper it was 50 years ago and the guests who were allowed to test a wee particle of the historical trophy claim it retains a delicious flavor.

—A freak wedding occurred in a museum the other day. Prof. Hedley, the euphonium player, 6 feet one, married the little lady, 32 inches high. The gentleman who gave the bride away was M. Hubert, the man without arms, who signed the marriage certificate, as a witness, with the pen between his teeth.

The bride maids were, "Nina," the American giantess; weighing 600 pounds, and "Satanella," the fire queen. The best man was Capt. Dallas, 7 feet 10 inches in height, and Gen. Metilene, 24 inches in height, all connected with the show.

DEATHS' DOINGS.

—David Anderson, a former citizen of this county, but who has lived in Laurel for the past three years, died at his home near London, Sunday, of pneumonia.

—Miss Ethel, the bright young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Carson, died at her home near Hustonville, Sunday night, after a protracted spell of pneumonia. Her remains were interred in the Hustonville cemetery yesterday.

—George, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Bright, of the Hubbub vicinity, died Friday of a brain trouble. Funeral services were held at the residence Saturday by Rev. T. J. Godby, after which the body was taken to the Danville cemetery for interment.

The financial exhibit of the government is indeed a startling one. The change in two years from a surplus of nearly sixty million to a bankrupt treasury, with a forced loan of over fifty millions expended, presents a fearful condition for the country to face, and it will profoundly impress considerate people of all parties as to the criminal profligacy of the Billion Congress.—Philadelphia Times.

STANFORD, KY., - MAY 12, 1861

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

County.

Judge..... W. E. Valentine
Representative..... D. B. Edmonson

We have nothing new to tell about the various races for State offices, which will begin to be settled to-morrow. There is so much doubt in all the contests that the convention is likely to be the largest and hold on the longest of any ever known in the State. Every candidate professes confidence and their friends appear even more confident that their favorites will win. Well posted people think that the final vote in the Governor's race will come between Brown and Clay, with the chances in favor of the former, but in all calculations you would do well not to figure Hardin out of the race. The other contests remain about the same as before stated, except that Mr. Warren's chances for auditor seem improved. Maj. Norman continues to whittle to keep his courage up, but his actions show that he is scared and scared badly. A combination against him is suggested, but we are not aware that any of the other three candidates sanction that method of retiring him, though it could be easily done.

The theory of heredity seems to be fully demonstrated in the case of Charles Ford, who was hung at Ottawa, Ill., Friday, for murdering a man whom his wife enticed for him to a lonely place for the purpose of robbery and for which she was given 14 years. Ford was born in the slums of New York. His father was hung for murder and his mother was driven out of the city for keeping a thieves' paradise. Two of his sisters keep notorious houses in Toronto, one of his uncles is doing time in Sing Sing for train wrecking and so on. Ford himself served two terms in a reform school and one in the Indiana penitentiary.

This prediction is printed in the Louisville Times. The name of the prophet is not given, but we hope, in several particulars, notably as to Gen. Castlemann, a democratic president, &c., he will prove to be of honor, even in his own country. Four years from next Wednesday the candidate for governor will be Gen. J. B. Castlemann, James P. Bryan, Bennett H. Young, and the incumbent will be for the former. A democratic president will occupy the White House and the farmers' alliance will be numbered with the dead grange and greenback parties.

Bro. SOMMERS, of the Elizabethtown News, is a political prophet, so far as governors are concerned, of great gnosticism. He says: "The News was the first paper in the State to name J. Proctor Knott for governor, the first to name Simon Bolivar Buckner and the first to name John Young Brown. On Mr. Brown's ability to get there our reputation as a prophet rests and if he is not nominated we will quit naming governors in Kentucky." At this writing it does not look like Bro. Sommers will have to quit prophesying.

A SYRIAN with an unpronounceable name in Damasen, has dissected the stomach of a silly worm and claims that he has found the combination by which he can make silk direct from mulberry leaves without feeding with the little worms. He has accordingly sent his nephew to this country for the purpose of starting a factory, which will probably be located in Georgia.

The prohibitionists hold their State convention in Louisville next week. The reason for following so closely on the heels of the democratic pow-wow doubtless grows out of the fact that the members want to be delivered from temptation. They expect that the democrats will drink all the liquor this week, and leave them no chance to look on the wine while it is red.

Of the 44,000 convicts confined in the penitentiaries of the country, only 1,800 are women. The number of the former would be doubled if all who deserved them were wearing striped clothes, while the women might be turned out without seriously disturbing the country. There are really very few women mean enough to be in the penitentiary.

The government is so hard pressed for money to meet the demands on its depleted treasury that it is actually levying a duty on honey bees. In order to do so, however, a decision had to be rendered to the effect that the busy little workers are animals.

The editor of the Covington Commonwealth is a sanguine soul. Hear him. The nomination of John Young Brown is a political certainty. He will enter the convention with a compact following and a career unstained in the service of democracy.

The Insurance Herald, of Louisville, the excellent monthly edited by Mr. Young E. Allison, blossomed forth last issue into a weekly, thereby demonstrating that it is both a popular and a paying institution.

It must take a man of supremely keen perception of the ridiculous to enjoy a hearty laugh at his own execution. Wm. Price seems to have been one of the very few of the sort. He was hung at Marshall, Mo., Friday, for rape on a girl, who afterwards committed suicide because she could not bear the disgrace she imagined had been brought on her, and yet with these horrible crimes damning his soul, the dispatches say that the last seen of his brittish features before the black cap shut them from view, they were convulsed in laughter. The joke was too much for him, however, and it wasn't long before he was where laughing is comparatively unknown, except by the head man of the concern, who keeps the tire going. An Alabama negro was also hanged the same day, but he failed to see the point of the joke.

The postmaster general has put the government to the expense of publishing a huge pamphlet, in which he advocates his pet scheme of postal savings banks. The country does not need such institutions nor does it care to read Mr. Wanamaker's arguments on the subject made at the people's expense. A truthful story of how he made his millions selling "cheap cloths" would find many more interested readers than anything he can say about postal savings banks.

It now looks like Col. Bradley's favorite, A. T. Wood, of Mt. Sterling, will have a walk-over for the republican nomination. The counties are instructing him right and left and by the time they are through, the other entries will find themselves so far in the rear that they will pay forfeit and yield the prize without further struggle. When the man from Garrard sets his head he generally gets there with both feet.

The announcement in Sunday's Mid-dlesboro News of the retirement of Col. Thos. H. Arnold from the editorial control of that paper will strike his friends with surprise and regret unless he finds a larger field in the State somewhere. He has sold his interest in the News to his partner, Mr. George H. Davis, who has demonstrated his ability to run it both creditably and profitably.

NEWSY NOTES.

—Some boys started a fire in a wagon shed in Chicago and 15 2-story dwellings were destroyed.

—There are in the United States 155,000 miles of railroad, giving employment to 700,000.

—The Chicago death rate for April was 3,450, more than double that of April, 1860.

—An explosion of gas in the Ocean mine, near Clarksburg, W. Va., caused the death of four miners.

—While repairing a church at Ashland the ceiling fell, killing J. B. Stephenson and fatally injuring three others.

—Four negroes were hung from the same limb in Lowndes county, Miss., for the attempted poisoning of a family.

—Joseph Borondes, a New York labor leader, has been sentenced to 21 months in prison for extorting money from employers.

—The jury trying ex-State Treasurer Noland, of Missouri, for embezzling $32,000 stood six and six for conviction and acquittal.

—Patriotism is not regarded as much of an offense in Chicago. Paul Holse cut his father's throat while he slept and got only 14 years for it.

—Last week $7,000,000 of our good gold was shipped to Europe, making $22,000,000 since January more than our imports.

—By a vote of 82 to 24 the National Convention of Machinists, at Pittsburgh decided to refuse admission to colored men.

—New pension certificates to the number of 31,545 were issued during April. The first payment on these will aggregate $3,874,815.

—The census shows that there are 97,537 insane persons confined in the asylums of this country, an increase of 73 per cent. over 10 years ago.

—Capt. Verney, of the English army, was given a year in the penitentiary for conspiring to obtain a young woman for the purpose of debauchery.

—A deputy U. S. marshal was killed from ambush in Franklin county, Ala., by illicit distillers, making the third officer murdered in two years.

—At San Francisco W. C. Woodford remained awake 158 hours, 45 minutes. The Detroit record was 144 hours, 20 minutes. He won only $100.

—The C. & O. switchmen at Covington are on a strike because three of their number were caught drinking whisky while on duty and were discharged.

—A special train of 20 cars, loaded with about 10,000 bunches of bananas, arrived in Cincinnati over one of the Southern roads one day last week.

—At Mayfield a Newport News and Mississippi Valley train crushed a wagon load of people at a crossing. Two were killed and two had limbs cut off.

—The analysis by a Cincinnati chemist of the spleen and liver of W. B. Snooks, the Louisville bridge-loom who died of poisoning, revealed a quantity of copper.

—Edward Atkinson, of Boston, the eminent statistician and well-known writer on economic subjects, with a party of Eastern capitalists, are in Middleboro, where a banquet was given them Saturday.

—A train on the Santa Fe road was stopped by five masked men Saturday night and all the money in the express car stolen.

—There are now 194 cotton seed oil mills in the South, with a capital of over $20,000,000. Forty of the mills have fertilizer works attached, the meal forming the basis.

—It is said that Secretary Blaine is trying to arrange with the English government for a cessation of seal catching until that animal shall have had a chance to multiply.

—The Louisville Park commissioners have purchased 240 acres of land just east of Cave Hill for $14,000, and the park, which is rich in natural beauty, will be ready to open Oct. 1.

—The wife of Alfred Townsley, who was in jail at Austin, Ill., for criminally assaulting his step-daughter, got permission to see him, when she jerked a pistol from her bosom and shot him to death.

—The Spring Garden National Bank, of Philadelphia, has been closed by the comptroller of the currency. The Penn Safe and Trust Deposit Company assigned, its interests being mingled with those of the bank.

—The repair shops, four locomotives, five cars loaded with oil, two with lumber, one baggage car and six passenger coaches, besides all the tools belonging to the workmen, were destroyed by fire, which completed gutted the railroad shops of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe, at Galveston, Texas.

—A white woman of Hull county, Georgia, is 114 years of age, has 12 children, 103 grandchildren, 335 great-grandchildren, 372 great-great grandchildren, in all 1,272. Her father lived to 110 years old. She has been a member of the church for 102.

—The foot ball season in England for 1860-61 presents a gay record. Twenty-two players were killed, 80 were permanently maimed and there were broken legs, arms, collar bones, thighs, noses and dislocations, cuts, bruises and internal injuries too numerous to far any previous edition.

—Internal Revenue Commissioner Mason estimates that the amount of whisky manufactured in the United States during the present year will be 120,000,000 gallons, being 5,000,000 gallons more whisky than was ever produced in the United States in any year in its history.

—The beet sugar manufacturers of the California company, operating with eastern capital, have completed negotiations for the immediate erection at Marshalltown, Iowa, of the largest beet sugar plant in the West, with a capital of $550,000. The daily capacity will be 400 tons and it is to be ready for the fall crop.

—Last week the Etata, a privateer of the Chihua insurgents, steamed out of the harbor of San Diego, Cal., after having loaded itself with contraband goods and while in nominal charge of a U. S. Marshal. It landed him below the city and upon his report an American man of-war was slowly prepared to pursue the privateer. Of course it didn't catch her.

—Last February, while returning home from Harrodsburg with his young bride, Cal. Vest was shot and killed by Jeff Holiday and his two brothers, Jim Matherly, a cousin of the murdered man, has been collecting evidence against the Holidays, but has all the time professed friendship for them. Thursday Matherly and a brother of Vest were together when they saw Jeff Holiday pass by. Matherly caught up with Holiday and offered him a drink. Holiday took the bottle, swallowed a good-sized drink and then went on, but soon feeling the effect of the poison went to a house near by and died in great agony. This is the 7th death caused by a divorce in the Holiday family.

—W. A. Hiatt and John L. Doty shipped 20 cows to Green & Embry, Cincinnati, for which they paid $30 per head. —Lancaster Record.

—Latest reports of the condition of the peach crop in the Delaware and Maryland peninsula are that the damage from the frost is very slight, the principal injury being to strawberries.

—J. H. Leonard sold 10 head of ewes and lambs last week to Ben Fighart for $6 for the old sheep and lambs thrown in. Another sale was made at $7 head, lambs included. —Harrodsburg Herald.

—The Richmond Register says Squire Williams sold 100 Sandhills yearling ewes at $10. Embry & Bowen shipped from Silver Creek 28 car-loads of cattle, which they had purchased for Lehman Bros. of Baltimore. Of this number a small quantity was for the Cincinnati market, 200 were for export and 250 filled for Jersey City, N. J. They cost $1,000 each.

—Kingman won the Phoenix Stake at Lexington, Michael 2d, 12 miles in 1:53, which makes him a big favorite for the Derby to-morrow. Before his owner, Kincaid Stone could secure the $3,720 won in the race, an injunction was served on Gen. Robinson restraining him from paying it. The action is caused by Kingman not picking up a penalty in the Phoenix Hotel Stakes, when his owner claims that he won the rich Hyde Park Stakes at Chicago last July and is

ECONOMY

Steps in front of the prudent purchaser's pocket book and demands to know how much value for a dollar. In our store we can always answer: as elsewhere and a little more. Why? Because we buy in much larger quantities and therefore

→CHEAPER THAN OTHERS,←

Because also our immense business enables us to place our goods in the consumers' hands at lower proportionate expense; and lastly because we are content with a smaller per centage of profit, believing that a small profit on many sales is preferable to a large profit on few. The Plow of the Age,
THE VULCAN CHILLED PLOW.

FARMERS, ATTENTION.—We call your attention to the following advantages of "The Vulcan" over any Chilled Plow made: First, the Vulcan is made of the original and genuine Chilled Metal. Second, the iron used in chilled parts is first quality Lake Superior Charcoal. Third, we give you a solid point, no scooping out or shaving off to save iron. Fourth, we give you a solid mould board, no thick edges with scooped back. Fifth, the Vulcan mould board is reinforced on the back by ribs and will stand double the strain of any other chilled mould board. Every plow guaranteed. For sale by PERSONAL POINTS.

Our old scribes, R. Lee Davis and W. J. Edmiston, were in to see us yesterday.

Mrs. James Milburn and Miss Nannie Walter went to Danville Friday to visit friends.

Mrs. T. S. Elkin and wife, of Lancaster, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Elkin.

Mrs. Susan Sargent has returned from a visit to her son, Dr. Andrew, at Hopkinsville.

Misses ANNIE AND GEORGE WRAY leave for Louisville to day to attend the Musical Festival.

MR. AND MRS. TOM METCALF went to Louisville to spend some time with Judge C. W. McTeal.

Mrs. W. C. Price, son Herbert and Mrs. Sims and daughter, of Danville, have been visiting Mrs. J. E. Faris.

About 100 Lincoln county democrats, including the editor, will start to the convention to-day to work for Warren.

MR. T. C. JASPER, cashier of the Plano (Texas) National Bank, was here yesterday shaking hands with his many friends.

Rev. W. A. Gibson, of Lexington, who is engaged in raising a fund for the Christian Orphan Asylum, was with his brother, Rev. John Bell Gibson, a few days.

Messrs. T. J. Hammond and A. H. Rice, of Garrard, representing the Walter A. Wood and McCormick Machine Cos., respectively, were here yesterday.

Col. W. D. Brailey was here yesterday and as usual in fine spirits. He's got everything his own way and there's nothing to hinder him from being light-hearted and happy.

Mr. AND MRS. GEORGE H. Bruce are disposing of their household goods, preparatory to leaving Stanford, which we regret to say they have determined to do in the near future.

MR. C. C. CARSON started Sunday afternoon to drive through to Louisville, so that he and his brother, J. T., can have the use of their nice horse and phaeton in the city for a few weeks.

PRESIDENT ED ALCORN and Cashier J. W. Hocker were here yesterday, apparently very proud of their bank statement, which appears on this page, and of which they have a good right to be.

This office was honored Saturday afternoon by a delightful call from the following handsome belles and beaux: Miss Mattie Bosley, Eugenia Pullan and Eliza and Katie Baker and Messrs. W. G. Fox, E. K. Tribble, Isaac and Warren Shelly.

MR. CLARENCE E. Woods, of the Richmond Register, one of the brightest writers as well as the cleverest gentlemen connected with the Kentucky press, made us a pleasant call en route to Lebanon to attend a meeting of the Enterprise stockholders, in which he still retains a number of shares.

Our clever agent, Mr. J. A. Carpenter, is anticipating an extended trip. The railway agents of the U. S. Canada and Mexico meet in convention at Denver, Colo., on the 29th and besides taking that in, he will likely take a Southern tour and probably sail on the peaceful Pacific.

MISS MARGARETTE INGLES, of Paris, writes that the item which recently appeared in this paper, saying that she was in New York preparing to star in a dramatic company, is erroneous. She will go East shortly to pursue her studies of elocution, in which she is already very proficient.

MISS BETTY PARSONS has returned from a very pleasant visit to friends in Lebanon. While there she was so importuned to teach another session in the female college by the patrons of the school there that she was forced to do so, notwithstanding she had decided to quit teaching for the present.

As usual Uncle Ed McRoberts had the first strawberries. He gathered them Friday last and says he will have a fair crop, though the late blossoms are nearly all killed.

HORSE POTATOES Saturday morning at Farris & Hardin's.

THE Louisville store will pay the highest market prices for eggs.

SODA WATER, the best ever made, now ready at W. B. McRoberts'.

WE WILL 25 good carpenters at once to whom I will pay good wages. Address B. C. Bradley, Hurroogburg.

Mr. J. S. Owsley, Snr., was breaking a young mare a few days ago, when the animal became unmanageable and ran into a fence, sustaining injuries from which she died.

TOMM will be six sweet girl graduates this year, if they stand their examinations, which they no doubt will. They are Misses Clara Lackey, Annie Green, Mamie Lynn, Mattie Rochester, Jane Feland and Mary Vandy.

MONS FROST.—A Harrison county man, who is said to have predicted the late frost, says we will have others on the 19th and 24th. He says it thundered on those days in April and he never has known it to fail for frost to come on the corresponding days in May.

The Boyle republicans sent their delegates un instructed, except to cast the vote of the county for Hon. John W. Yerkes for member of the State Central Committee from this district. The position is now held by Gen. W. J. Landrum, who is chairman of the committee.

From the Insurance Herald, published at Louisville, we find that Stanford paid out $5,400 for fire insurance last year and got back on losses $800. Danville paid $10,408 and received $11,981. Harrodsburg paid $20,000 and drew out $11,271; Lancaster $10,037 and received $9,888.

We are in receipt of a readable letter from Palestine, Texas, with no signature save "Jim Sulphur," which is evidently a nom de plume. As all newspapers have an invariable rule to publish no contribution without the name of the writer, Mr. Sulphur's is consequently barred.

LEICESTER COLLEGE has had an assistant professor since last Sunday, the first born of Prof. S. J. Pullan and wife, who is at the home of her father, Col. M. Mullins.—Falmouth Democrat. If it is a boy, we suggest that his father's name, Stonewall Jackson, would be a mighty good one to perpetuate.

SURPRISE PARTIES.—Misses Annie Alcorn and Mamie Lynn were each "surprised" Friday night by the gathering at their homes of a merry crowd of young people. Fortunately for the surprises, the "surprises" had an inkling of the coming and a delightful repast was spread at each of the hospitable homes.

THE L. & N. will sell excursion tickets to Louisville at one fare for the round-trip on the following dates: May 11 to 15, good returning May 16 to 18, good till 21, on account of the Democratic Convention, 13th, Jockey Club Races, 13th to 22, Music Festival, 12th to 16th, Elk's Reunion, 17th to 19th. For particulars call on or address any L. & N. agent, or W. W. Penn, T. P. A., Juneau City.

THE COURT OF APPEALS has affirmed the decision of the Laurel circuit court sentencing Wils Jennings to the penitentiary for life for the murder of John Bailey in Harlan. Jennings has been in jail here ever since his sentence, awaiting the result of the appeal. Besides nurturing Bailey, numerous other inmates are charged to him, though he does not look at all like a murderer or a desperado.

BOYLE ITEMS.—Miss Fannie Rains, a sister of W. L. Tarkington, was terribly burned by falling headlong into the fire, while dozing.—Mad dogs are playing in the Atoka neighborhood. One bit a $1,000 jemmet belonging to W. A. Caldwell and she will die. It also bit a little son of Joe Van Andale and one of Wm. Leathers, both of whom were taken to Junction City, where a madstone was applied. The dog also bit four dogs, four cows and three steers, all of which had to be killed.

BOWLING GREEN the grocers have formed a protective association, elected officers and adopted a constitution, the leading feature of which is, that no member of the association will sell goods to anyone found on the black list. It will be the duty of each member to report promptly any person who fails to pay his account in a reasonable time and after he has been put on the black list, none of them can sell him except for cash. The Stanford merchants might make a note of this and take steps for their mutual benefit.

EVERY change that the L. & N. makes in its schedule on this division seems to be for the worse, so far at least as our people are concerned. The new schedule, which went into effect Sunday, makes the south-bound express, No. 25, pass here at 1:13 A. M., instead of 11:50 P. M., and the north-bound, No. 26, at 2:47 A. M., instead of 3:11. These trains were very popular for our people to go to Louisville on, as a man could get a fair night's sleep, either before starting or on returning, but the present arrangement knocks nearly all of the sleep out of both nights.

As usual Uncle Ed McRoberts had the first strawberries. He gathered them Friday last and says he will have a fair crop, though the late blossoms are nearly all killed.

NEW lot of dressed and undressed kid gloves in tan, gray and black. Severance & Son.

PRIVATE SALE.—J. T. Endry sold to J. H. Collier five shares First National Bank stock at $113.

Mr. W. L. LETCHER's 16 shares of stock in the First National Bank of Stanford sold at auction yesterday as follows: R. L. Porter live at $13.25, W. M. Lackey five of same price and J. H. Colliers at $113.

If you want the best binder on the market buy the Deering. For sale by A. T. Nunnelley, who also keeps a full line of repairs and the best twine made, all at prices and terms to suit the times, give him a call.

At the bar room licenses at Junction City have expired, except G. D. McCullum's, and his will be out July 1. After that the Boyle county people will have to depend on the blind tigers and drug stores for their intoxicating beverages.

OUR colored statesman, George W. Gentry, came over from his distillery to take a hand in the republican convention yesterday. He made a game fight for Gen. W. J. Landrum, for district committeeman, but he was downed by the Bradleysites by an overwhelming majority. See proceedings elsewhere in this issue.

There is a big hitch in the water works construction, but we are informed by the moneyed men of the concern that they intend to see that they are built according to agreement. Unfortunately for the town the company as a whole did not sign the contract and it may be that it will be left in a hole. But of this more anon.

After three heavy frosts it turned warm Friday and ever since has been as hot as August and duster. The farmers complain greatly of the severe drought, which has practically stopped their operations. It was getting cloudy yesterday and notwithstanding the prediction of the signal service for frost and clearing weather, rain seemed to be in sight.

Few reports gathered from farmers all over the county yesterday, we learn that the wheat was damaged by the frost but little if any. As to fruit of all kinds the general estimate is that fully 75 per cent. is killed. In some localities all is gone, while in others the damage was slight. In the northern part of the State the damage was even greater and reports from the West and North tell of immense and irreparable damage to wheat and fruits.

In the county court yesterday the will of Col. T. W. Miller was admitted to probate. It is in his own handwriting and bequeaths everything to his wife to dispose of by will or otherwise as she may deem proper. Mrs. Miller and Hon. J. S. Owsley are appointed executors without security. The will of A. G. Cowan was also probated. It gives all of his estate, some $3,000, to the children of his sister, Mrs. J. N. Menefee, and makes Mr. Menefee executor. Liquor license was granted Mrs. Mary C. Vanderpool, at Crab Orchard, and George S. Carpenter, Stanford.

The prohibitionists held a mass meeting yesterday to send delegates to the convention, which meets in Louisville on the 19th, to nominate candidates for State offices. Chairman A. W. Carpenter presided and Peter Carter acted as secretary. Rev. J. Q. Montgomery addressed the meeting and the following list of delegates were appointed: A. W. Carpenter, J. Q. Montgomery, J. T. Hackley, Dr. Taylor, J. H. Bastin, J. H. Collier, Mack Holmes, J. T. O'Hair, W. G. Hulde, M. N. Early, Lewis Gooch and John Holmes. No instructions were given, but the delegates are to vote as a unit. Chairman Carpenter tells us that he does not think any nominations will be made for county offices.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

A. W. Carpenter sold to George Alford a gelding for $150.

F. M. Howard, of Bee Lick, bought an East End party's 1/2 head of mountain cattle at $12 etc.

The tobacco house of F. X. Holman & Sons, in Covington, was burned.

Loss of Building and contents $20,000.

H. C. Ezell, of Wilkerson, Tenn., an importer, sold 25 jacks at $300 to $1,500, and a number of jennets at $200 to $500.

The life interest of S. E. Owsley in the old Dr. Owsley farm of 220 acres, was bought at commissioner's sale yesterday by E. P. Owsley for $5,000.

E. B. Beazley has lost 20 fine hogs with cholera and Robert McAlister suffered even worse. Dogs played havoc with S. M. Owens' sheep a few nights ago.

cents; of B. G. Gover a lot of 130-pound hogs at 34 cents and of W. M. Lackey a lot of mixed cattle at 2½ to 3½ cents.

Mr. John McKee, who has a peach orchard of 32,000 trees near Kingville, says that not much damage is done his fruit and that excepting those trees that are in the low grounds and on branches, the yield promises to be even better than heretofore.

Yesterday was a dull day in every particular. The machine men from the various counties surrounding were present and talked loud and long but with little or no effect. Some 150 cattle were on the market, but only about 50 changed hands. Heifers sold at 3 cents; butcher cattle 3 to 3½; feeders 2½. A couple of piling horses sold for $35 and $42.50. A lot of Texas yearling mules were taken down at $20. Crowd pretty fair.
